Terry's vast knowledge of incorporating antique building materials and utilizing the highest quality vendors, subcontractors, and materials in his homes distinguishes this firm from others. His work ethic, experience, and unwavering commitment to providing his clients with exceptional quality workmanship have made the firm one of the most trusted builders in Shreveport, Bossier, and northwest Louisiana.

Whether it is for a quaint bungalow or a luxurious state-of-the-art home, Terry and the team are always thrilled to receive a new project. Its portfolio embodies the many facets of Terry's ability to build and remodel vastly different homes. The firm builds homes that satisfy customers, as they combine simplicity and elegance.

Ryan Smith Builders

4134 Periwinkle Ln, Benton, LA 71006-8413

Contact

With an uncompromising dedication to exceeding clients' expectations for custom home builds, Ryan Smith Builders creates dream homes that become legacy homes and last for generations. The firm is owned by its namesake, who decided for its business to carry his name to demonstrate his commitment to quality. Ryan believes that every custom build is a signature, which was proven through the positive feedback of clients and the press. The Southern Living Magazine awarded the firm as one of its top 100 Builders in the South for two consecutive years.

The Southern Living Custom Builder Program is a network of more than one hundred of the South's top custom home builders brought together by its magazine. This invitation-only program selects custom builders acclaimed for their detailed craftsmanship, excellence in customer service, financial stability, and use of quality building materials in their homes. Before members are selected, Southern Living checks homeowner and business references and conducts a site visit to ensure the builder will deliver a quality custom home and the ideal customer service.

Wesley Thomas Construction and Remodeling

724 Azalea Dr Ste C, Shreveport, LA 71106

Contact

Since 2008, Wesley Thomas, Inc. has been lauded by clients for its dedication to quality, specializing in custom home building and remodeling. The firm is based in Shreveport, Louisiana, and services clients in the Shreveport areas. With its numerous years of experience and aptitude for unique design, it ensures quality projects are always met or exceeded. From drafting and final design to material selection and construction, Wesley Thomas, Inc. provides the professional services each client needs to actualize their dream.

Featured above is one of its most impeccable creations. Called the "Luxury in Esplanade," the project strikes a balance between timeless elegance and simplicity. The firm utilizes touches of lightwood and marble, making white the dominant shade for the overall interior and exterior. This made the home look and feel cozy while maintaining the luxurious ambiance of the property.

Jenkins Construction

9452 Milbank Dr., Shreveport, LA 71115

Contact

Jenkins Construction designs homes with clients in mind, with affordable prices, energy-efficient products, and high-quality construction. It also understands the importance of staying within your budget. The firm is accredited by the Home Builders Association of Northwest Louisiana and is headed by owner Matthew Jenkins. Matthew graduated from Louisiana State University in Shreveport, where he earned a bachelor's degree in Finance. Before opening the firm, he worked at Vintage Residential as a Production Manager, where he supervised the construction of over twenty homes.

The firm works closely with its customers to identify their target price and work diligently within that goal. It is dedicated to both delivering quality projects and building energy-efficient homes that help ease the burden of rising utility expenses. Customer service is also critical to Jenkins, and it believes that this begins with high-quality construction.

Horneman Homes

116 Downing Court, Bossier City, LA 71111

Contact

Owned and operated by Rob Horneman, Horneman Homes specializes in custom homes for clients in Shreveport and Bossier City areas. It has established itself as a company that meets the needs of each customer by building a custom home that fits their budget. The firm has also made it a personal goal to deliver quality homes that exceed customers' expectations.

Horneman Homes also received its accreditation from the Better Business Bureau. This is given to companies that meet accreditation standards, including a commitment to make a good faith effort to resolve any consumer complaints. BBB Accreditation gives consumers confidence to work with an ethical, vetted business. Among its many projects that show its craftsmanship is the Kingston Plantation House. Notable for its colonial design, this extensive property is filled with bricks and touches of wood, and it has a similar look and feel to the Victorian era.
